Pillsbury's Hatch-Waxman Practice

Pillsbury's Hatch-Waxman Practice is comprised of lawyers with more than 50 years of combined experience litigating pharmaceutical drug products on behalf of generic pharmaceutical companies across the globe.

Our team of lawyers has collectively handled—including as lead trial counsel—more than 75 Hatch-Waxman litigation matters across the country. Many of these litigation matters were handled on behalf of the world's largest generic pharmaceutical companies. Our team comprises lawyers who are USPTO registered patent attorneys with Ph.D.'s and other advanced degrees in fields such as organic chemistry, cellular biology, biochemistry, immunology and molecular biology. From providing pre-suit PIV filing strategies and legal opinions through trial and appeal, our team of lawyers has done it all, including negotiating favorable settlements and licensing agreements.

Our clients know they can rely on Pillsbury's Hatch-Waxman Practice to handle their cases. Whether as lead trial counsel in federal district court or before the PTAB in Inter Partes Reviews (IPRs), we know how to advocate for our clients. Our lawyers' significant record of successes and ground-breaking experiences—including representing a client in the first-ever IPR challenge of a pharmaceutical patent before the PTAB—fortifies our ability to win and employ strategies to obtain favorable settlements for our clients.
